

The product is made up of several components.
The operating instructions are available on the Bürkert homepage.
Enter the article number from the type label of the component in the search bar.
The operating instructions will be found under “Downloads”.

